

First 5 Alameda County Parenting Partnership Promising Practices Planning and Assessment Form	How would this practice look in this program?	Where is the program on the road to accomplishing this practice?	Action from: First 5 Alameda County	Action from: Grantee Agency	Action from: Provider	Evidence/How will you know?
Parent Groups
Strength-based
Mutual respect of expertise provider/parent
Two-way communication/education child development information
Shared power and decision making
Diversity of all kinds respected and included, linguistically and culturally competent practices
Networks of support built-strengthening connections between families, and with larger community/resource and referral
Hands-on interactive learning
Topics relevant to families' lives-- how do you develop relevant curriculum?
Reflective supervision
Staff communication/collaboration/training
Parent-Child Groups
Frequency—familiarity—consistency to develop trust
Hands-on interactive learning
Developmentally appropriate environment, materials, interactions
Culturally and linguistically competent materials, environment, curriculum, interactions
Modeling and supporting positive adult\child interactions

Reflective supervision
Staff communication/ collaboration/training
Children's Program
Developmentally appropriate environment and materials
Developmentally appropriate curriculum and activities
Good staff/child ratios
Positive teacher/child interactions
Staff communication/ collaboration/training
Teacher education and experience
Reflective supervision
Cultural/linguistic competent materials, environment, curriculum, interactions.
Relationships Among /Articulation of Three Components
Parents have opportunities to reflect, share observations, and ask questions about what happens in child/family interactive time
Child care providers offer families and parent facilitators information about child's experience in children's program
Child care providers collaborate with parent facilitators to align feedback to families w/curriculum in parent education class
Systems for sharing cohort meeting and T.A. content and training information with entire staff						